

CLIFF FALLS: The Missing Pieces Edition | Available April 28, 2020

"A palpable, gritty experience of redemption. So real. Art imitating life. Well done!" – Amy Grant

"Can a novel heal your image of God and yourself? CLIFF FALLS has the potential to do just that. This adventure will nourish your soul. It is that good!" – Bobby Schuller, Hour of Power

"Selecting CLIFF FALLS for Arcadia's One Community, One Book program proved to be an inspiration for a whole city."

– Scott Hettrick, Hollywoodinhidef.com

"A stunning visual journey told with wit and humor that is anchored with a big heart and tons of soul. This book will make a difference in your life."

– Sarah Skibitzke, A&E Intervention

"I believe in CLIFF FALLS, the best fictional rendition of the kid actor saga I've ever read."

– Paul Petersen, The Donna Reed Show/A Minor Consideration

"CLIFF FALLS has had marked success. All the independent bookstores have gravitated towards it."

– PBS SoCal

"Best of the Best. The Bestselling Independently Published Book in the 125 year history of Vromans Bookstore."

– Vromans Bookstore

"Through it all is the underpinning of grace that never lets go and holds the final word. The power of empathy and love changes everything."

– Mark Labberton, President, Fuller Theological Seminary

"When C.B. Shiepe writes about God, he is on such familiar turf that he is able to capture the nuance and depth of that relationship, bringing the reader into his personal sphere, and providing an experience to build on."

– Edward Grinnan, Editor-in-Chief, Guideposts

A special 10th anniversary edition of this bestselling novel has been revised and expanded throughout. The Missing Pieces that were left out before are now ready to see the light of day.

When a mysterious fire ravages a Hollywood studio backlot, exploited child star Clay Grant disappears, but not before he retrieves his journal from the flames. Maybe he should have let that burn, too? Fifteen years later, Clay stays one step ahead of everything—his pain, his past, and the accusing voices that keep him running—until the person he fears most reappears. Now Clay must find a way to escape for good.

Out of options, Clay arrives in majestic Cliff Falls under an overcast sky and quickly learns that no one escapes life.

What happens when you run into everything you've been running from? What Clay discovers will change his life and perhaps yours.

Cliff Falls Media

CliffFalls.com

Author C.B. Shiepe has garnered much media attention, appearing on NBC, PBS, TBN, Hour of Power, in Guideposts Magazine, at the LA Times Festival of Books, and speaking engagements across the country, including the Betty Ford Center in Rancho Mirage, CA where actors performed scenes from his novel.

 /clifffalls

 @clifffallsbook

 @clifffallsbook

PRESS-TELEGRAM

C.B. Shiepe | Author & Speaker

“C.B. Shiepe found that the worst of times can create the best in a person.” – PBS SoCal

“A palpable, gritty experience of redemption. So real. Art imitating life. Well done!” – Amy Grant

“The success of CLIFF FALLS is a minor miracle. Through optimistic and relentless work, his story resonated with readers, including some at influential bookstores – and is now reaching a broad audience.”

– The Orange County Register

“A coveted speaker, C.B. Shiepe has a gift for seeing the underlying truth in life, then finding the most beautiful words to describe it. His mastery of the metaphor comes from his deep connection to the soul.”

– One Community, One Book

“When C.B. Shiepe writes about God, he is on such familiar turf that he is able to capture the nuance and depth of that relationship, bringing the reader into his personal sphere, and providing an experience to build on.”

– Edward Grinnan, Editor-in-Chief, Guideposts

“C.B. Shiepe has the ambiguously foreign look that makes soap opera careers. This thought stuck with me because I'd met the caramel-skinned, dark-eyed writer to discuss his novel, which is acclaimed for its universally poignant message. His looks tag him as a man of the world; his writing as a purveyor of the human experience.”

– The Desert Sun

“My hope was that it wouldn't just be an entertaining story. I wanted it to help people. And it has! People come up to me at book signings and quote my words. They tell me how CLIFF FALLS gave them the strength to believe in their own self-worth. That's the single best part of the writing process.”

– Mercury News

The Desert Sun

PRESS-TELEGRAM

Guideposts

“Going over the falls will change you, but how it changes you changes everything...”

At age 26, C.B. Shiepe went over the falls in his own life when a health challenge landed him in bed with little more to do than write. It was in the midst of this trial God gave him a message that is reaching thousands of people around the world.

He says, “The knowledge that my story is speaking to people who have gone over the falls is especially meaningful to me. In all that isolation, I had to recognize the face of restoration, and trust that God was taking my experience and redeeming the lost years. I know now that none of our life's experiences goes to waste.”

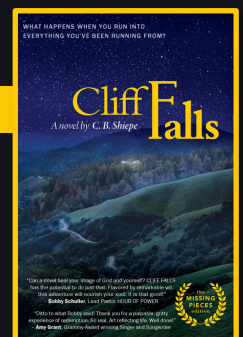

Above all, he thanks the One who has seen him through. “After you have suffered a little while, He Himself will restore you and make you strong, firm and steadfast.”

– 1 Peter 5:10. Whatever that looks like, he's game.

Available April 28, 2020

Cliff
Falls
Media

Author C.B. Shiepe has garnered much media attention, appearing on NBC, PBS, TBN, Hour of Power, in Guideposts Magazine, at the LA Times Festival of Books, and speaking engagements across the country, including the Betty Ford Center in Rancho Mirage, CA where actors performed scenes from his novel.

CliffFalls.com

/cliffalls @cliffallsbook @cliffallsbook